Dear Customer

Update: Natcor service

Our previous communiques refers.

This is to confirm that the Natcor train service has commenced this past weekend. Take note that the throughput times of trains are impacted by several locomotive failures on the Natcor after the startup of the service. Our technical teams are engaging the operational teams to provide the required support.

TPT has also commenced normal rail operations.

Thank you for your understanding and assuring you of our full support.

Sincerest regards
