3 DEFINITIONS AND ACRONYMS

APN	Advance Payment Notification
CCD	Customs Clearance Declaration
SARB	South African Reserve Bank

4 BACKGROUND

- a) The South African Reserve Bank (SARB) authorises dealers in currency and foreign exchange. Authorised dealers may make advance foreign exchange payments to foreign suppliers thereby securing the supply of goods and enabling the subsequent importation thereof into South Africa. When applying for foreign exchange payments clients will be requested to submit documents for example a pro-forma invoice from the foreign supplier detailing the intended supply of goods to their client.

- b) The SARB has published under Section 9 of the Currency and Exchanges Act No. 9 of 1933 an exchange control regulation, making provision for Advance Import Payments. The aim of the regulation is to prevent illicit financial flows as well as duty and tax losses through Customs undervaluation.

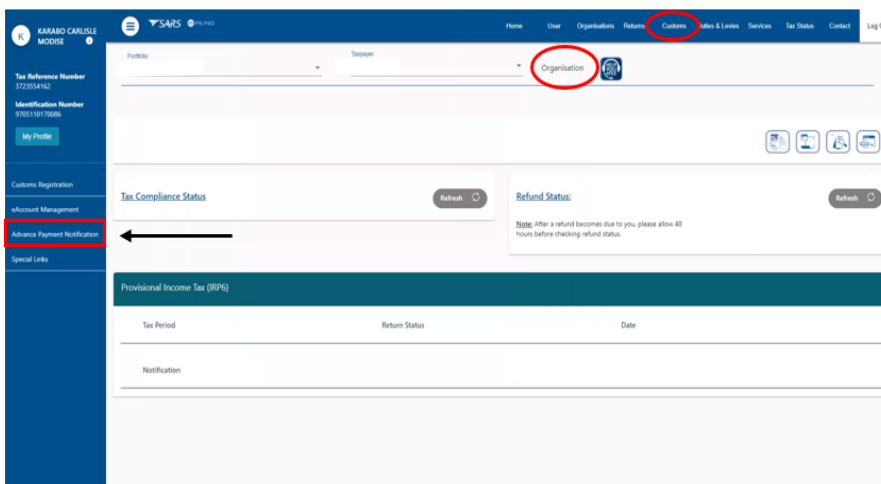

5 GOVERNING LEGISLATION

- a) Customs may disclose to an authorised dealer any information relating to an application of an advance foreign exchange payment for verification purposes in terms of Section 4(3)(ivC).
- b) Section 4(3A)(i) prohibits any person including an authorised dealer to:
- i) Disclose the information obtained in confidence from Customs; or
 - ii) Permit another person to have access thereto.
- c) Rule 120.13 have been published in accordance with Section 120(1)(mC) prescribing the requirements in terms of advance foreign exchange payments, namely:
- i) Rule 120.13.01 – definitions;
 - ii) Rule 120.13.02 – the type of advance foreign exchange payments to which the Rules apply;
 - iii) Rule 120.13.03 – the requirements and procedures for notifying SARS of the importer's intent to apply for advance foreign exchange payments;
 - iv) Rule 120.13.04 – the issuing of an APN reference number to the importer by SARS;
 - v) Rule 120.13.05 – the APN reference number to be reflected on the import Customs clearance declaration (CCD); and
 - vi) Rule 120.13.06 – the communication through eFiling for purposes of advance payments.
